

Dear Hiring Manager,

I saw a job posting on linkedin that you are hiring for data analyst intern . I know I do not have the number of years of working experience you are looking for but I am willing to work for free at your company as intern Data Analyst. Because I really want to work at your company and grow my career as a Data Analyst. I have already learnt the basics of data analytics and I would like to further it at your company. My skills are sql , excel and power bi and below is my portfolio website and some projects;
